

Informational films on “all around the window” for the profine partners

In its constant efforts to provide its partners with marketing support, the system supplier profine with the KBE, Kömmerling, and Trocal brands has produced a number of informative films targeting end customers on the subjects of energy saving, sound insulation, security, modernisation, PVC-U windows, indoor climate, and sustainability.

What all films have in common: Within just a few minutes, the most important facts and special features of each subject are presented in an easily understandable and objective manner without staged product advertisements. These films therefore satisfy the end customers' demand for compact audiovisual information presented with a high degree of credibility.

High quality productions, these films are ideal e.g. for the showrooms of window specialists, their homepages, consumer trade fairs hosted by manufacturers and dealers, and many other fields. They can be viewed on the profine website, the homepages of its brands KBE, Kömmerling, and Trocal, and in addition on the profine YouTube channel and the profine facebook page.

profine Group partners can also access the films online in the password protected media database. There they can be downloaded in a range of formats up to full HD.
